Teaching for Tomorrow

DEVISE4KE Final Conference

How can vocational education become competence-based, digital, and work-oriented – even in resource-constrained environments?

Join us for the final conference of the Erasmus+ CBVET project DEVISE4KE, where project partners, vocational schools, researchers and practitioners from Europe and Kenya come together to share experiences, discuss lessons learned and explore future cooperation.

Over the past three years, DEVISE4KE has worked with vocational schools in rural Kenya to strengthen competence-based teaching through digital Learning and Work Tasks, teacher professional development and sustainable digital infrastructure. The project has shown how innovative teaching approaches can be developed collaboratively across very different educational contexts.

The conference offers much more than a presentation of project results. Participants can expect:

- Inspiring keynote presentations
- Practical examples from Kenya and Europe
- Hands-on workshops on competence-based digital teaching
- Insights into successful Erasmus+ CBVET projects
- Networking and matchmaking opportunities for future partnerships
- Practical guidance on developing competitive CBVET proposals

Whether you are already involved in Capacity Building in VET or considering your first international partnership, this conference offers valuable insights, practical tools and the opportunity to connect with experienced organisations from across Europe and Kenya.
